

ISO 11143 Certified Amalgam Separator Installation Notification**

The Washington State Department of Ecology (Ecology) and the Washington State Dental Association (WSDA) are working together to help dental offices properly control dental office wastes by implementing Best Management Practices (BMPs), including installation of amalgam separators. Although not required, dental offices may use this form to notify Ecology that they have installed a separator. Specialty and general practices that place or remove amalgam less than ten days per year (subject to Ecology verification) do not need to install the separator unit. Specialty dentists (who believe separator installation is not needed) should note their area of specialty and "separator not needed" on the Date of Installation line.
